My Vue machine fits perfectly on top of this storage drawer.

Jason S Marsala

All of my different Vue cups fit great, even the Vue cups, which are larger, for the travel mug size.

valdor

I love my product it fits nicely under my new Keurig VUE machine.

★★★★★ Large enough to hold the brewer!

By Travels A LOT on October 29, 2012

Verified Purchase

Sturdy, wish it held more. I do not have cabinets over my brewer, so I have ordered a 2nd one to stack.

Adding to this review, there are 2 versions available though Amazon, my 2nd one has arrived. The one in THIS review (25 cup) has straight rails inside the drawer to hold the cups in alignment. The other one (20 cup) has spots on the rails (wavy design) to hold the cups in line and in place, rails take up more space in the drawer. The 20 cup doesn't work so well on the taller cups (travel brew size) also makes it a bit difficult to get the taller cups in and out of the back part of the drawer. So, both work as advertised, which one will work better for your needs would depend on your use case. Some reviewers have stated the need to put the drawer on its side to fit with their kitchen set up, the one with the bent rails (20 cup) will Not help with that, the cups won't go in upside down.

This straight railed version, seems to be built a bit more sturdy.

★★★★★ Great accessory for my Vue

By C. Moy on December 1, 2012

Verified Purchase

This is a great way to store your Vue cups. I love the fact that it will even accommodate the taller travel mug pods. I choose this over the carousel pod holder made by Keurig as I am not interested in having my kitchen look like a snack bar in some student lounge. I wanted to keep the pods near the machine but not have them out on display. The drawer is very well built I keep it under my VUE and it does not bow or bend in any way. The drawer slides easily and catches at the end so you don't mistakenly pull it too far out and have the drawer drop and pods fly everywhere. This is better than the option offered by Keurig, and a far better value in price. I highly recommend this to anyone with a VUE machine, and would buy it again.

Be warned though it seems many reviewers are buying this and with the intentions of placing it underneath their machines but forgetting to measure the height between their cabinets and the top of the VUE brewer before ordering. Really remember to check to make sure your brewer will still fit underneath the cabinets with this drawer under it. One of the average review is because of this, the other is silly as it complains about the capacity being 25 when it clearly states it holds 25.

If you find that you do not have enough room it would be easy to get some hardware from your local big box store and mount it underneath the cabinet. If thinking about this route please check the depth of your cabinets vs the depth of this drawer.

★★★☆☆ Holds Vue pods, but too big!

By Luan Bennett on May 18, 2014

Verified Purchase

This drawer does for what it is designed--holds the larger size Vue cups for Keurig Vue. However, with my cabinetry, the Keurig sits too high on the drawer and you cannot drop a pod in the maker until you slide it off the drawer. I moved it in my kitchen and it now holds Vue cups plus my kitchen radio/CD player. Actually wasted my money and it is my fault I did not measure.

★★★★★ Perfect storage!

By valdor on November 5, 2012

Verified Purchase

I received the Vue cup drawer and was pleased to find it so well made. The price was fantastic for the quality. All of my different Vue cups fit great, even the Vue cups, which are larger, for the travel mug size. The top of the storage drawer is a rubber-type material which helps to cushion the coffee maker and helps with easy cleanup. The only thing that might have made this better would have been to have rollers on the bottom. The addition of the extra height made my coffee maker taller and I have to pull it out from under the cabinet. Still, even with that, I am very happy I purchased it!

★★★★★ Arrived in good shape. Vue cups fit nicely in it

Works as advertised. Arrived in good shape. Vue cups fit nicely in it. It does have a tendency to get junk piled in front of it. Can't really blame that on the manufacturer though.
